The Brady Brief - Greening the Capitol

Dear Friend,

Climate change is one of the most important issues facing this country. Congress has made progress in bettering our environment and lessening our dependence on foreign oil. This year, the House has passed several important pieces of legislation, such as the American Clean Energy and Security Act and the Home Star Energy Retrofit Act. Along with our commitment to enacting clean energy policy, the House of Representatives has taken up an initiative called Green the Capitol to make our own operations more sustainable and environmentally friendly.

I am proud to report that my own Capitol Hill office was recently honored with a "Green Office" award in recognition of our environmental practices. We are designated as a Green Office because we have implemented energy saving measures, employed a recycling and composting program, and cut down on our paper use, among other measures. Winning this award was very important to me because it shows the personal commitment my staff and I have to do what we can to operate sustainably.

Please visit my website to see an explanation of everything Congress is doing to improve our environment.

Sincerely,

Robert Brady
Member of Congress
